THE CALIFORNIANS VICTORIOUS IN EVERYTHING.

Potency of the Seductive Grape Juice of the Pacific—The Stockton Convention.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

[Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.]

St. Louis, June 4th.—To-morrow the Democratic National Convention meets. It will be called to order by the National Committee, Stephen M. White, of California, will be elected temporary chairman, and the Vice-President will be chosen. Secretaries elected, clerks appointed, and the Committee on Platform and Resolutions and Credentials named. This will, in all probability, constitute the first day's work of the Convention. On Wednesday, should the committee be in readiness to report, a permanent organization will be effected; nominations for President and Vice-President will be made; a National Committee will be appointed, and the Convention finally complete its labors.

THE HOTEL HIGHWAYMEN.

It is reported that there is a scheme afoot to delay the Convention over another week, so that the highwaymen who manage the hotels may have a chance to dive still deeper into the pockets of their helpless victims. If the delegates to the Convention who are being hourly robbed by the leading hotels, submit to this, it will be surprising.

NOTHING BUT CONVENTION.

From daybreak this morning until long after midnight the city has been given over to the Convention. Every person from the mechanics in the shops and laborers in the streets to merchants in their shops and operators on the exchange, are all deeply in the Convention. They know that Cleveland will be nominated by acclamation; that there is no other possible chance that Thurman will be beaten for the second place on the ticket; that everything is cut-and-dried, excepting the platform of the party, and that there is nothing in the platform except a tariff plank worth fighting over. But they nevertheless feel that the time is in some measure responsible for upholding the fortunes of the Democratic party for another four years, and they have abandoned themselves to the excitement which always attends the meeting of a National Convention.

Flags float in the smoky atmosphere which overhangs the business portion of the city. There are economical displays of hunting from the hotels who are endeavoring to accommodate the delegates, who are inordinately taxed for very accommodations. Buses are passing the hotels, and are followed by political clubs from every part of the country, and the streets are thronged by pedestrians, who heartily cheer their attractive appearance. Fully one-third of the delegates attended the races to-day.

A JUG-HANDLE OF CONVENTION.

There were none of the old-time discussions in behalf of the "jug-handle" for the Presidency; no vital issue that divides the party into factions; no pipe-laying, wire-pulling, and trading for this and that office. Everything is cut-and-dried, and the delegates know it. The only enthusiasm visible anywhere is the crowd assembled and was addressed by one of the delegates from Indiana, supporter of Gray. He stood with his back against one of the columns in the spacious lobby of the hotel, and presented arguments in support of his candidate. The crowd cheered him, and a Thurman man mounted a chair opposite the Gray speaker, and they indulged in a debate.

The Thurman advocate had a red bandana handkerchief tied at the end of his nose to hide his marks, and a Louisiana orator held in his hand a picture of Gray, which bore a striking resemblance to the man who was being attacked. The orator was very much excited, and until both orators were exhausted, and then the fun waxed furious for two hours. In several occasions three cheers were proposed for Cleveland, but they met with very feeble response.

LACK OF ENTHUSIASM FOR CLEVELAND.

Is the one remarkable feature of the Convention, and is the one feature which gates assembly in Convention there is no more fervor displayed at the mention of his name.

WASHINGTON, June 4th.—In the words of his own physicians, General Sheridan is now on the verge of dissolution. The fact is that he is unable to do his duty. This afternoon he had a hemorrhage of the lungs, and a recurrence, in a violent form, of his former trouble. The physicians at that time gave up all hope, and looked for his death from moment to moment. They kept up their efforts to save him, however, but he was nearly dead hours before they were able to say he had rallied at all. THE STOCKTON CONVENTION INFLUENCE.

Has prevailed in the delegation. There are no more of the old-time discussions in behalf of the "jug-handle" for the Presidency; no vital issue that divides the party into factions; no pipe-laying, wire-pulling, and trading for this and that office. Everything is cut-and-dried, and the delegates know it. The only enthusiasm visible anywhere is the crowd assembled and was addressed by one of the delegates from Indiana, supporter of Gray. The crowd cheered him, and a Thurman man mounted a chair opposite the Gray speaker, and they indulged in a debate.

THE SECRET OF THEIR SUCCESS.

All day the California headquarters have been crowded with visitors anxious to sample the California wine, which have been distributed lavishly.

IT WILL BE CLEVELAND AND THURMAN.

Unless the most unexpected change of program be made, it is probable that Cleveland and Thurman. The clubs are already getting their transparencies painted, and on the sides of the buildings are coupled in the cheers of the crowd.

THE HOOSIERS, however, keep up their fight for Gray, and go about from place to place, endeavoring to elect the ticket without the aid of Indiana. This argument causes a great deal of amusement, but the Hoosiers are so excited and carried away by their enthusiasm that they will not and cannot listen to any one.

A MIDNIGHT REMOR.

The midnight rumors as to the Vice Presidency that influential Indiana have been advised Governor Gray to withdraw from the race, and to support Cleveland, this will be done by Voorhees in a dramatic manner on the floor of the Convention.

ANARCHISM REPUDED.

The North American Turner Band at its recent important session in Chicago decided that it has nothing to do with any Anarchistic ideas. By resolution, all sympathy with Anarchism was repudiated by a vote of 379 to 298. But most of those, say the dispatches, who voted in the negative did so because they did not want to repudiate a charge not directly made, some because they had been personal friends of the Anarchists who were executed, and many because of their horror of the death penalty. It was a signal victory for the anti-Anarchist element. But the occurrence came about in such a way as to emphasize the strong position that the society occupies on social questions.

It appears that the Green Bay Turn Verein, a few months ago, had issued a circular demanding that all who sympathized with the Chicago Anarchists be expelled, and threatening to withdraw if the demand was refused. On this matter the report of a committee recommended a reprimand to the Green Bay Turn Verein, on the technical ground of violation of the Turner's constitution by such a mode of procedure as the circular advised. The committee submitted a platform of principles, setting forth that the Convention of the North American Turner Band is in accordance with all just demands for the amelioration of the social condition of the working people, and is resolved to employ its entire strength to fix proper boundaries to the oppression by monopoly. The resolution added that in a republic all necessary reforms must be brought about in a peaceful and legal way.

The report added: "All appeals to brute force, incitement or attempts to cause riots, and to violent self-help, such as was made in recent times on the free soil of the republic, are condemned most emphatically as criminal." Upon this report the fight began and ended. The Green Bay Verein defended its action on the ground that the inaction of the higher authorities of the order at a critical time, had led the public to believe there was some sympathy between the Turn Verein and Anarchism. A motion by an Anarchist sympathizer to expel the Green Bay Turn Verein brought the fight to a white heat, whereupon Mayor Wallber, of Milwaukee, moved an amendment that section of the report declaring against the use of violence. He wished to make it stronger by "repelling with indignation the reproach that we are open to anarchistic ideas," and announcing that "we shall always stand up for law and order." To this it was objected that even to Anarchists must be granted the right of free speech, but after a warm debate the amendment was adopted by 379 to 298 and the report as amended by a vote of 303. This action is important as indicating the burden of thought on the part of a great number of American citizens upon Anarchist preaching and manifestation. It serves also to remove a reproach that a good many had supposed to attach to the organization because of the anarchistic views of a very small number of the members of the order.

On several occasions the RECORD-UNION has commended the effort to establish free kindergarten schools in this city. A beginning was made to attain that end, so far as one school will accomplish it, several months ago, and has made some progress. The public mind is now better informed concerning the financial needs of the effort and the hope is entertained that it will be speedily given the necessary monthly income. When that is assured the promoters will endeavor, open the school, and it is anticipated that the work will be done on a very near day. That our people may have the benefit of the recital of the experience in kindergarten work in San Francisco, and the great benefits it confers upon society, Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, the foremost worker in the kindergarten cause in the metropolis, will this evening, at a free entertainment, tell the story of kindergarten work in San Francisco. To those who have read any of her writings upon the subject of kindergarten as means of intellectual and moral education, and of physical development, the mere announcement that she is to speak upon the topic will be sufficient to insure their presence. Those who have not given special attention to the matter will probably be much instructed by the address. Recognition of this philanthropic effort to found a kindergarten school in this city should therefore be given by a large attendance. The matter rises out of mere local importance, for it is a movement that proceeds upon a high plane to a lofty purpose, and is worthy of the broadest commendation and most liberal assistance.

SENATOR STANFORD is credited with declaring that President Cleveland's exercise of the veto power is an exercise of terroring Congress, and that by his ill-usage he has come into the exercise of power greater than that of any original potentate. Whether the Senator has so expressed himself or not, it is truth. The veto power is given to the executive as a check upon dangerous and extravagant legislation, and open as well as covert attacks upon constitutional guarantees. It was never intended that the President should make it a means to legislation as President Cleveland has done. As is stated in the language attributed to Senator Stanford, the President has used his privilege that he can coerce 200 out of 300 Congressmen, and imperil any and all the measures of Representatives or Senators. Since he has vetoed more bills than all the vetoes of all the other Presidents aggregate, it is not difficult to understand how he can exert the power to dictate the passage or defeat of any measure, and become the national legislator, usurping the functions of Congress.

It is probable that Judge Thurman will be given second place upon the Democratic ticket. The Democracy is a policy party, and Thurman, while at heart it refuses to forgive him for having been a pioneer in civil service reform. The result will be that the old-time spoils element will kill Mr. Thurman, and he will be defeated. He should be because he has no moral right to take a place upon the ticket of a party which abhors the doctrine he preaches. When he said: "If I think I am honest they will leave me alone," he gave the party-leaders a slap in the face and notified them that he is not blind to their insincerity.

Scattering Reports Come in From Yesterday's Election.

(Copyright, 1888, by the California Associated Press.)

PORTLAND, June 4th.—The vote has been exceedingly light. The efforts of the United States Marshal and the appointment of Inspectors by the United States District Court almost entirely destroyed the vote of the Republican ticket. The vote has been reduced about a thousand.

It is believed the Republicans have carried Multnomah county, though by a smaller majority. Hermann's election is conceded.

A dispatch from Astoria says Chalmers (Dem.) is in the lead, but the Republican legislative ticket is ahead. A large vote was polled there.

YAMHILL COUNTY.

McMinnville, June 4th.—In Yamhill county the Republicans have a large majority, but will probably lose one or two Representatives. The vote was very close, but the Republicans carried the county.

Full returns to-morrow. Hermann's majority is given.

CHATHAM COUNTY.

Peninsula, June 4th.—It is impossible to state the result of the election in eastern Oregon. This county (Union) has gone Democratic by a large majority.

Gearty for Congress will be ahead of his ticket in eastern Oregon. The whole Democratic ticket will be elected in this county, except in the city of Astoria.

Two out of three Democratic candidates for the legislature are in the lead. The Democrats are jubilant, and think the State is theirs, but it is too early to tell definitely.

BAKER COUNTY.

Baker City, June 4th.—Returns from ten precincts in Baker county indicate the usual Democratic majority for their Congressmen and the Legislature ticket. Over eight hundred votes were polled in Baker City precinct, an increase of two hundred and fifty over that of two years ago. We estimate Gearty's majority in the county will be about 1,500.

The county officers will be somewhat mixed, owing to local dissensions.
